

Documenting Maritime Cultural Heritage

26th April 2022 10am-6pm

Museum of Literature Ireland

86 St Stephen's Green, Dublin 2, Ireland and online

Registration is free. In-person attendance is limited. Please register for in-person or to receive a virtual link at:

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/harbourview-symposium-registration-293993070187>

3D Photogrammetry Model of Porthgain Harbour, Wales (Oriël Prizeman, Luigi Barazzetti)

The one day symposium concludes activities of the ESRC- IRC funded UK-Ireland networking project co-led by Cardiff University and University College Dublin Harbourview. It draws together community representatives and experts to present the future challenges and opportunities for the preservation and documentation of historic harbours in Ireland and Wales.

Programme

10:00 Harbourview: Introduction

Prof Oriël Prizeman, Cardiff University

10:10 Keynote: Harbour heritage: Critical reflections on remote pasts and stormy futures

Dr Linde Egberts, Vrije Universiteit

10:50 Q&A followed by coffee break

The Use of Digital Tools

11:30 ICOMOS & Potential of Local Community

Bill Hastings, ARC Consultants

11:50 Harbourview Case Studies & Digital Tools

Prof Oriël Prizeman, Cardiff University

12:10 Ballydehob Quay and its Small Satellite Quays

Cormac Levis, Local Maritime Historian

12:40 The Ancient Harbour of Newport Pembrokeshire

Reg Atkinson, Local Historian

13:00 Q&A followed by lunch (provided)

Inventories, Classifications & Management

14:20 Harbours of Co Galway – Insights into the 2001 Report

Ronan Waters, Ryan Hanley Engineering

14:40 The Role of National Bodies

Dr Julian Whitewright, RCAHMW

15:00 Harbour Conservation: Bullock Harbour, Ireland

Lisa Edden, CORA Engineering

15:20 Q&A followed by coffee break

Closing Remarks & Reception

16:00 Coastal Heritage, Communities & Climate Change

Dr Elizabeth Shotton, UCD

16:30 Q&A followed by Reception

Economic and Social
Research Council

