

Harbourview Workshops

Bullock Harbour, Dun Laoghaire-Rathdown, Ireland (Shotton, 2016)

WORKSHOPS

The workshops will be an opportunity for the local community to learn simple and accessible digital documentation techniques from skilled experts, to see more advanced techniques in use, such as laser scanning and drones, as well as learn something about the history of their harbour. We have planned the dates of all the workshops to coincide with the lowest tides, so that we can have the best view of the harbour structure. Please bring your cameras and/or phones as we will be sharing the best techniques to document harbours with these simple pieces of equipment. You will also find a helpful demonstration video on the website which is useful to review before and after the workshop.

Community Workshops are being planned at four harbours for the initial stage of this project.

In Ireland:

1. Ballydehob, County Cork on 7 November 2021 at 10:30-12:00 noon
2. Gyles Quay, County Louth on 30 January 2022 at 3:00-4:30pm

In Wales

3. Porthgain, Pembrokeshire on 3 February 2022 1:30-3.30pm
4. Newport, Pembrokeshire on 4 February 2022 14:00-4.00pm

Participation from the local community on each workshop is limited to 12 people. Please complete this form [next page] to register for one of these workshops and send it by email to the Irish or Welsh Coordinator. We will acknowledge receipt and send you further details. We will keep a wait list and notify you if a place is available.

IRELAND: Elizabeth Shotton, University College Dublin (elizabeth.shotton@ucd.ie)

WALES: Oriel Prizeman, Cardiff University (PrizemanO@cardiff.ac.uk)

*If our work on these first pilot studies is useful, we will look to engage with other communities.
So, if you are from a different harbour community do contact us!*

REGISTRATION

We will email you on receipt of this registration to confirm your participation or that you are on a waiting list. All personal details will be shared only within the project team for coordinating the workshops, following which your details will be deleted.

Name (required):

Email (required):

Phone (required):

Date:

Workshop (Check only one)

Ballydehob, Cork (email to: elizabeth.shotton@ucd.ie)

Gyles Quay, Louth (email to: elizabeth.shotton@ucd.ie)

Porthgain, Pembrokeshire (email to: PrizemanO@cardiff.ac.uk)

Newport, Pembrokeshire (email to: PrizemanO@cardiff.ac.uk)

By submitting this registration I understand and also agree to take part in the event entirely at my own risk. I confirm that no liability is attached to University College Dublin or Cardiff University for any injury that may be sustained by me as a result of my participation in the event. I have no physical or medical condition which would inhibit me from participation in the activity(s) for which I am registered. I also agree that I recognise and understand that this activity is outdoors in a dynamic environment and that I will be exposed to hazards over which University College Dublin or Cardiff University had no control. (required)

SAFETY

Harbours can be dangerous sites, particularly at low tide when we will be meeting you. It is important to observe the following safety precautions while on the workshop:

1. Dress appropriately for winter weather, with an adequate raincoat and sweaters, sturdy footwear and gloves.
2. Please be always conscious of the pier or quay edge, and of ropes or other tackle which may be under foot.
3. Intertidal zones can be very dangerous, particularly if they are muddy, as there is a risk of sinking and becoming trapped. Tides can also come in very quickly to trap you. Please attend to the safety directions of the staff and do not enter the intertidal zone unless they have ascertained that it is safe to do so.

COVID-19

Due to the ongoing Covid-19 pandemic it will be necessary to restrict participation to 12 community members at each workshop, in addition to the specialists attending. For this reason we would ask you to register well in advance using the form below. If circumstances change and you are unable to attend, we would request that you contact us so that we can release your space for use by someone else.

As the workshops will be held outside, there will be no need to confirm your vaccination status. However, if by the date of the workshop you are suffering from the symptoms of Covid 19 or are have been advised to self-isolate under HSE guidance, please email the workshop coordinator to let us know you are unable to attend.

All participants will be required to wear a mask and keep a 2 meter or 6 foot social distance from other participants and the staff attending the event.